Harvest Festival

Come on down to the Dougherty Farmstead on Saturday September 13th, 3-7 PM for the 2025 Duvall Harvest Festival! Music by The Woots jug band, square dancing, hay dig, garden harvest, animals, photo booth, kid zone, carnival games, crafts for kids & adults, blacksmith demonstration, butter making & more! These activities are free for all ages.

For Purchase: food trucks, vendor market, 21+ beer garden.

Competitions are open for Rooster Crowing, Handmade Crafts & Art, Wacky Carrots & the Farm Vehicle Show. Register for free at DUVALLHARVESTFESTIVAL.COM for your chance to win ribbons & prizes!

Decorate the Farmstead with us the night before at the Movie Night Kick-Off featuring "Babe". Basket making while supplies last. Popcorn provided. Bring a blanket or chairs, event is outdoors.

Volunteers wanted, please sign-up on the website. We hope to see you there!

Murals in Progress in Duvall

In 2024, the Duvall Cultural Commission commissioned two new murals as part of the City's Biennial Art Plan, and this summer that vision is coming to life. Local artist Alex Kimbel, a Cedarcrest High School student, is painting "Birds of the Valley" at Mini Mart, highlighting the beauty of the Snoqualmie Valley's bird life. At 1st & Virginia, artist Brenda Choi is creating "Duvall Through the Ages," a mural that will showcase our city's history and include community paint days where residents can help bring the artwork to completion. These murals celebrate Duvall's creativity, history, and strong sense of community. Keep an eye out as they unfold!

Duvall Connect

There are lots of ways to stay in the know about what's happening in Duvall! Download the DuvallConnect app for real-time City news, event updates, and emergency alerts right on your phone. You can also visit our City website for resources and information, or follow us on social media to see the latest updates and community highlights.
